Safety First

Safety Quarter

In the first quarter of the year for 2008 we received three Mine Safety & Health Administration inspections all of which were violation free. The inspections typically last one to two days with a federally trained inspector evaluating every aspect of our operations insuring the safety of the miners employed there. Violations can include anything from a miss-labeled container to exposed wires to loose rocks and many, many other possibilities. Our employees have truly embraced the "SAFETY FIRST" mentality. It is because of them that these violation free inspections and more importantly safe working conditions exist. This accomplishment adds to a running total of thirteen violation free inspections in a row for Stoneco of Michigan. Please join us in congratulating our employees for their devotion to keeping themselves and others safe while at our operations.
